XØDUS PRESENTATION

INTRODUCTION

After centuries of war the Earth is dead.

The rich live in an orbiting city while the poor struggle in the wastelands on Earth. The city is terraforming Saturn's largest moon Titan and will turn the Earth into a star.

Those who do not serve the evil city and its warped cybernetic Queen will be left behind to die.

X0DUS tells the story of Caleb, a young Duke, whose idyllic life aboard the orbiting city is shattered when his father is murdered by the Queen and Caleb is thrown into the Earth's apocalyptic deserts.

Left for dead, he's found by Red, a warrior maiden of the slave underclass who despises everything he represents. But Red and Caleb must unite forces if they are to stop the Queen from vaporizing the Earth

It's a VISUALLY SPECTACULAR non-stop action packed genre movie utilizing breakthrough real-time technology to produce high quality visuals at an INDEPENDENT BUDGET.

X0dus is a live action, virtual production action adventure feature film for fans of all the science-fiction movies we loved in the 80s; Star Wars, Mad Max, Dune, Enemy Mine, Damnation Alley and Flash Gordon.

ABOUT THE CREATOR

XØdus is written and directed by visual effects veteran and award-winning independent feature film director Dean Yurke.

English-born Dean Yurke has worked in the film industry for over 25 years and has credits on over 50 major motion pictures. After graduating with a degree in media production and a master's in computer animation, his award-winning student film landed him a job with Terry Gilliam's visual effects company Peerless. There he headed the computer graphics department and was the computer graphics supervisor on several notable features, including 12 Monkeys, The Edge, and Surviving Picasso.

In 1997 Dean moved to California to join George Lucas' Industrial Light & Magic to work on the Star Wars prequels. He has worked as an animator, digital artist, or sequence supervisor on some of the highest-grossing franchises of all time, STAR WARS, TRANSFORMERS, HARRY POTTER, AVATAR, AVENGERS and more recently has credits on the virtual production and streaming show hits; THE MANDALORIAN, LOKI, HAWKEYE and OBI-WAN.

In tandem with his visual effects career, Yurke also wrote, produced, and directed the festival's favorite supernatural thriller, Stay Out Stay Alive, winner of 10 best picture / best director awards resulting in worldwide distribution through Gravitax Ventures.

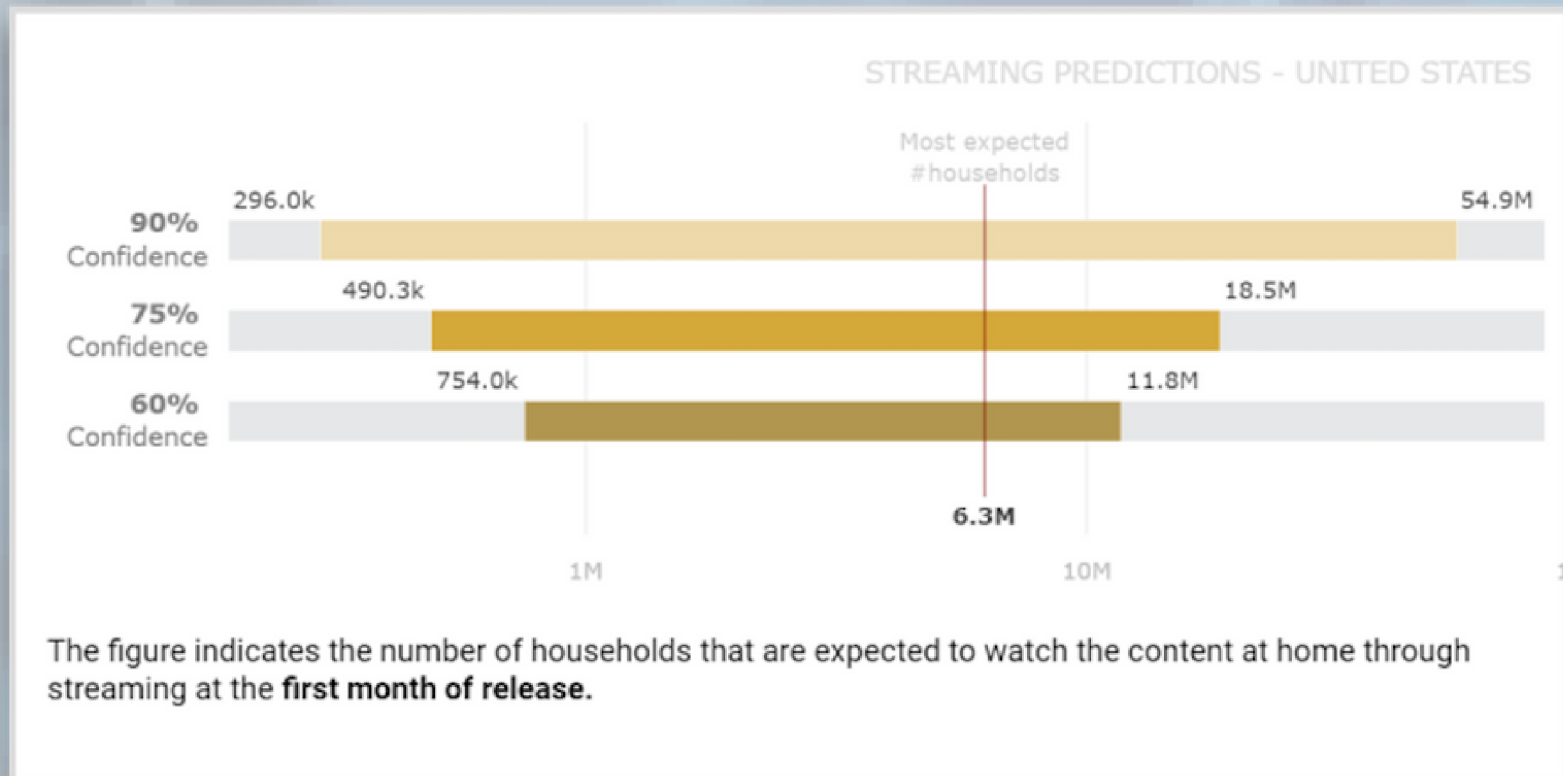

“ As storytellers we know that the audience only need to be kept within the story, to believe the images they’re seeing from one cut to the next.”

— Dean Yurke
